

I Miss You

By: Jacoby Johnson

I look at the two of you and I miss you, yet you're here for me to see daily
I look at the two of you and I miss you, although you're still under my care I look at the two of you and I miss you, even though you don't reach for my hand when crossing the street anymore
I look at the two of you and I miss you, because you no longer run into my arms when you see me home from work
I look at the two of you and I miss you, because you're not my little boys anymore
I look at the two of you and I miss the boys I had Yet I am proud of the young men that you have become
I look at the two of you
And I see that I have touched the future because you are my legacy
I look at the two of you and I am overcome with emotions
I look at the two of you as only a proud father could look at his sons
I look at the two of you
Then I look into the heavens and thank God
That he has allowed me to be your father on earth.
I look at the two of you and I hope That you will have an intimate relationship with God
As I look at the two of you I miss the little boys, I am proud of the young men, And I pray for the Men that you will become.
When I look at the two of you I miss you because I love you and it is my prayer that one day you will have a blessing in the form of a son or daughter so that you can experience the joy you have brought to my life.
And although I understand that this is the process of boys becoming men, I just wanted you to know that I miss you and love you.
